A MUSS IN THE RADICAL CAMP-A REVENUE OFFICER RESORTS TO THE USE OF THE CANE .-- It will be rememberd that we stated a short while since that Col. I. J. Young U. S. Revenue collector for this District, felt himself considerably aggrieved at the efforts made by Dr. A. B. Chapin, of Chatham, a former Revenue official, to have Col. Young removed from his office. For this reason Col. Young, it would seem, had secretly vowed vengeance upon the head of the Doctor whenever he should meet him. And yesterday was the time and the Capitol Square Capitol and immediately opposite the Washington monument, he was confronted by the irate Colonel, who applied some epithets not suited to polite ears, and Dr. Chapin offering to resent them, Gol. Young com-We learn that it is contemplated to menced the free use of a cane over the was pretty well frazzled out by the operation. The affair ended at this stage of the game. Both of the belligerents were before His Honor Mayor Manly during the afternoon, Col. Young submitting and being bound over to the next term of the Superior Court in the sum of $50, and Dr. Chapin giving bail for his appearance before the Mayor this morning with a view of showing cause why he should not be bound over to Court. "It is well for brethren to dwell together in unity."

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT. - This Court, Judge Brooks presiding, was Tuesday engaged in hearing the case of W. H. Bledsoe vs. the Atlantic Insurance Company, of New York, involving also the case of Bledsoe vs. the City Fire Insurance Company, of Richmond, Va.,) Messrs, Busbee & Busbee and Fowle for plaintiffs, ment Merrimon Fuller & Ashe for defendants. The case involves the claim of Bledsoe against the companies named for $3,758 32 each, for losses sustained by the burning of a mill belonging to Bledsoe in December, 1873. The argument in the case commence 1 at a late hour

A NEGRO ARRESTED FOR MURDER COMMITTED IN 1871.-W. V. Clifton was recently appointed by the Governor as special agent to arrest one Hillsman Morgan, col., charged with the murder of John Crudup, col., in Franklin county in 1871. The murderer was arrested in Fayetteville on Sunday morning, and in attempting to escape was shot in the leg. He was then retaken and placed in the Cumberland jail, where he now remains, his wounds being of such a nature as to prevent his being removed to Franklin county for trial until he shall have somewhat recovered.

THE DURHAM HOTEL, -This house will be ready for occupancy about the first of January. The proprietors are considering the qualifications of the applicants who desire to take charge of it. If they go outside of their own community for a landlord, and it is natural they should consider that claim first, we know of no one better qualified for the position, than Mrs. Troy who so acceptably keeps the eating house at Morrisville. We think there will be no difference of opinion among those who have partaken of her excellent and bountiful tare.

THE BERGER FAMILY. - This popular troupe, accompanied by the justly celebrated and popular humorist and delineator, Sol Smith Russell, already well known to our community, will appear at Tucker Hall on Friday and Saturday nights, and we are confident they will have crowded houses. Of their recent visit to Augusta the Chronicle and Sentinel says :

"An entertainment, composed of good music and genuine humor, would hardly fail to please in any community with the smallest pretensions to cultivated taste. Augusta has the reputation of being more than ordinarily fastidious in this respect hence the approbation of those of her citizens who attend perfermances at the Opera House is a very fair indication of merit. This being the case the Bergers cannot but be gratified at the reception they have received. The company is exptionally meritorious. Its principal members are possessed of talent of a superior degree, and there are none who can be classed as mediocre. Miss Anna Berger is a fine musician ou the cornet and the violin, and a charming vocalist. Miss Annie Morgan has a remarkably sweet soprano voice, which she uses with skill and judgment. Her rendition of favorite oallads went to the hearts of the audience, and secured for her hearty and well deserved applause. One of the most artistic and skilful musicians in the company is M'lle. Klaisv. Her performance on the violencelle was a masterpiece. Sol Smith Russel is-himself; we can hardly say more. Mr. Russell is undoubtedly the greatest of living humorists and delineators of character. His representations are inimitable. Successive presentations but develop new features of wit and humor.

THE FUNDING OF THE CITY DEBT. -Parties desiring to vote upon the question of funding the debt of the city, which election will take place on the 14th of January next, will remember that a new registration is necessary. The registration books are now opened at the places heretofore mentioned.

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS -Our friend T. J. Walker, the popular baker, who is now located on Wilmington street next door to Culley's store, is preparing his good things for the place for this meeting. Indictment of Gen. Babceck.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean of Saturday contains the text of the indictment found by the Grand Jury at St. Louis against Gen. Orville E. Babcock for alleged complicity in the whiskey frauds. It reads as follows: United States of America, Eastern District of Missouri, ss.: In the District Court of the United States For the Eastern District of Missou-At the November term of said Court, A. D. 1875.

"The Grand Jury of the United States of America, duly empaneled, sworn, and charged to inquire in and for the Eastern District of Missouri. o. their oaths, present that Orville E. Babcock and John A. Joyce, late of said district, on the first January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, at the said district, did conspire, combine, confederate, and agree together among themselves, and with John McDonald, Joseph M. Fitzroy, Rudolph W. Ulrici, Louis Teuscher, John Busby, Gordon B. Bingham, and with certain other persons to the Grand Jurors aforesaid unknown, to defraud the United tates of the internal revenue tax of seventy cents, then and there imposed by law upon each and every roof gallon of a large quantity, to wit: 1,000,000 proof gallons distilled spirits thereafter to be produced at certain distilleries then and there situated in the City of St. Louis, within said district."

The indictment then goes on to recite the specific facts that each conspirator agreed to and did carry out under the terms of agreement.

Wm. B. Astor's Will. The deceased millionaire's will has been offered for probate and the heirs have been cited to appear before the surrogate. He amply provides for his daughters, Mrs. Alida P Cary and Mrs. Laura A. Delano; also for his grand daughter, Margaret A. Chanler. There are also the follow ing minor bequests: To the widow Benjamin Astor, an annuity during her life of $200 a year; to the American Bible Society, $10,000; to the Society for Relief of Respectable Aged Indigent Females, $5,000; to the Institution for the Blind, $5,000; to the New York Lying-In sylum, $5,000; to the Ladies' Repository, $5,000; to the Exempt Firemen's Be evolent Fund of the Volunteer Fire Department, $10,000; to Phillip Kissam, Augustus F. Satterlee, William W. Bruce and Thomas M. Beare, $2,500 to each or them, provided he shall be in the employ of the testator at the time of his death. In regard to the Astor library, the will recites that the testator had formed the resolution to add $250 000 to the endowment of the Astor library. founded by his father, which resolution he contemplated to execute in his life-time; but he directs his executors to pay to the trustees of the library whatever portion of the $250,-000 he may not have advanced or paid in his life-time. By the codicil of May 28, 1869, he declares that the unpaid balance of this $250,000 was $49,000, and by that codicil he gives to the trustees of the Astor Library an additional sum of $200,000, to be paid in three successive equal annual instalments, the first at the ex, iration of one year from the time of his death. This $200,000 he directs to be kept invested and held as a permanent fund, the income of which shall be applied, from time to time, to the purchase of books and the maintenance of the library, with lib-erty to the trustees of the library to expend not exceeding $25,000 of the apital in the purchase of books. The residue of the real estate is given to his two sons, John Jacob Astor and William Astor, in fee simple.

A WIDELY APPLICABLE BEMEDY .- Few remedies are applicable to such a wide range of disorders as Hostetter's Stomach range of disorders as Hostetter's Stomach Biters, and this not because it has special properties adapted to the cure of each—such a presence would be manifestly absurd,—but on account of its wonderfully improving effect upon the general tone of the system, and its alterative action upon the ergans of nutrition, secretion and dischargs. Besides its well known properties as a remaily for interinitent and remittent evers, dyspeosial constitution, torpidity as a remaly for intermittent and remittent evers, dyspepsia, constipation, torpidity of the liver, general debility, urinary and uterine difficulties, it invariably proves to be highly serviceable in overcoing anomia, and many other disorders and disabilities originating in poverty or impurity of the blood, nervous weakness or overexcitement or an imperfect performance of the physical functions.

Charles O'Connor still lingers on the verge of the grave, slowly but surely approaching his end, and a few days will bring to a close the life of one of the most able, and higher praise still, one of the most honest of New York lawyers.

"THE President wants the most fearless man that can be found to prosecute all offenders, and will be dead loss. satisfied with nothing else" savs the National Republican. Why, he had just such a man in Senator Henderson, the prosecutor in the St. Louis trials. He filled the bill to a T. fearless, and was pushing his points a little too far. The demand is a little "too thin."

THE National Republican waves a fragment of the bloody shirt The whites of Mississippi are again on the rampage. Alas, the poor negro!

Considering the novelty of th position in which the Democrats of the House find themselves in the majority for the first time since the war, and a majority from which so much is expected, their delay in entering upon the business is in the highest degree admirable. The composition of the house is novel, and the members impelled by diverse tempers, wants and aspirations. To ascertain all these, and accommodate all differences is a work of some time. It is indispensable to usefulness that the members understand each other, and that they harmonize in policy. It cannot stand the strain of such imprudent trials as was foreed upon it by the haste of Fernando Wood, which gave the Republicans occasion to boast of a victory. But that trial was really beneficial to the the danger of individual assertion.

This week the business of the House will be begun with organized system and under acknowledged leadership.

THE POTATO CROP.

Early in the last summer we cautioned our readers on this subject, being led to the belief from the dolorous northern accounts that the Colorado beetle would make a clean sweep of the crop. But the beetle and the grasshopper have proved themselves the best friends of the speculator, and have been made the scape goats of infinite imposition. It turns out from November and December report of the Department of Agriculture, that the crop of the country, in the aggregate, is the largest and best ever known. New York exceeds last year's crop 7 per cent. Pennsylvania 12, Ohio 25, Michigan 59, Illinois 107. And so on, only a few counties in a few States showing any appreciable injury by the beetle. In Vermont and Pennsylvania, and in some other States, the prices range from 20 to 40 cents per bushel.

Potatoes therefore ought to be cheap and plenty.

This is a daugerous season, and often the fondest mother's care s no protection against Coughs and solds and Hoarseness. Dr. Buil's Cough Syrup should therefore be kept in readiness. Price, 25 cents.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

A contemporary asks "If the press, imitating the News, all remain dumb as oysters on the availability and merits of men fit for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, how are these people to arrive at the will of the people?"

This is not the position of the News. On the contrary, it is eminently right and proper that the various gentlemen supposed to be qualified be named, and their merits canvassed. What we complain of and what we protest against is, that the mention of these names should have the force of nominations, and that the individual will of certain editors be taken as law to the party; and further than this, that the News failing to commit itself to these undigested fancies, should be arraigned as false to its party and entertaining sinister views of its own or acting to carry out the wishes of selfish plotters for the nomination.

We will continue, as we have done, to publish every name that is suggested in every portion of the State. The convention will then be prepared to decide among the many claims to be presented.

A SUNDAY MAIL.

The change of schedule next week will involve such changes in the arrival and departure of the mails on the North Carolina Railroad as will involve serious inconvenience to business men and all others unless rectified. As at present run, we have our mails early in the morning from the West, and at night from the East. Sunday makes gap, but we get the mails early Monday morning. By the new arrangement, the Western and a great part of the Northern mail will reach here at a late hour in the afternoon, thus making Monday, the most important business day in the week, a

The remedy for this is the restoration of the Sunday service. The trains run as usual, and the route agent can perform Sunday service without additional cost to the His fault was, he was a little too department. There will be no objection urged to it if proper representation is made. This community is likely to suffer by the change of connections in its business with the Weldon road going North, involving a loss of twenty-four hours. CAPT. JAMES I. WADDELL. Information has already been given of the detention of this gentleman, Captain of the Pacific Mail Steamship City of San Francisco, by a threat of the Hawaian authorities to arrest him on his arrival in their waters on a charge of piracy for the destruction of the Hawaian Bark Harvest. We have seen in a California paper some further particulars of the affair, an abstract of which may interest our readers.

Upon the arrival of the City of San Francisco at the port of that name, Capt. Waddell found that the Agent of the company was there, recently arrived from Honolulu. The Agent had learned that the Hawaians were in possession of the Democrats since it warned them of fact that the dreaded Captain of the rebel cruiser Shenandoah, in his voyage to Sydney would necessarily stop at Honolulu, and they had resolved to detain him and hold him to answer for the aforesaid destruction of their vessel. The Ex-Attorney General of the Hawaian Government was in San Francisco, and upon consultation with him, it was deemed advisable that Capt. Waddell remain in the United States until the difficulty was adjusted, of which there could be no doubt. In an interview with a reporter of the San Francisco journal referred to, Capt. Widdell gave some interesting particulars of the destruction of the vessel which is now the cause of trouble. In the month of June, 1865, he was cruising high up the North Pacific, in the cruising ground of the American Whalers, his special mission, under instruction of the Confederate Government. In the course of his cruise. he learned that there were four American Whalers in the harbor of Punipette, a small island on the Northern Asiatic coast. He steered immediately for the island, and entering the harbor, found the four vessels as described. As he approached them, he displayed the American colors. The four Whalers immediately did the same, and then the Shenandoah immediately hauling down the Stars and Stripes and running up the Confederate flag. In pursuance of his orders, he proceeded to destroy the vessels by burning them, not by firing into them and sinking them, as the reporter states, for he also states, that Capt. Waddell informed him with profound satisfaction that in the whole course of his destructive cruise, he had never taken life nor injured limb, which would have not been the case if he had opened upon the whalers with shot and shell. The Hawaian bark was destroyed with the others. She, too, run up the American flag. At the time she was under the command of the mate, the Captain being on shore on a frolic, but it was learned that the mate acted under orders providing for such cases. The Hawaian vessel paid the penalty like dog Tray in the fable, for being found in bad company, and imitating their habits.

The destruction of the others, subsequently legalized as an act of war, must also legalize the destruction of the Harvest, since she followed the fate of her false colors, the legality of which Capt. Waddell had neither the right nor the time to anestion.

An Amusing Episode. An episode of a rather serio-comi character has lately attended the building of a new railroad in Indiana. Every person is anxious to have the read, but some of the people along the line don't want it to run on their land. As long as it runs on their neighbor's land it doesn't disturb them, but when their ox gets gored hey don't like it. The most remarkable opposition occurred last week. The farm of one of the wealthiest citizens of Rockville was on the line, and he swore that the surveyors would not go on his land unless they went over his dead body. His friends tried to advise with him, and offered to compromise with him but he would not compromise, nor would be allow them to go on the land, saying, that he would kill the first man that put his foot on the land. On Thursday last he surveyor arrived at his line and he came down to where they were, and informed them that the tirst man who crossed the line was a dead man. The chief assured him that he did not want to hurt him, but simply wanted to do his duty. Then farmer asked him if he would promise him that he would not go on ais land until he wen' to town to get some witnesses to his will, as he had made one, and expected to die if the road was outlt on his land. This was agreed to, and the farmer went to own, and, after making his will, he purchased a revolver and returned to his precious acres. Soon the old man approached the surveyors with his coat off, belt and shot-pouch on, and revolver on each side, and also a big knife. As soon as the engineer saw what was up he started for the farmer, and told him to put the gun up or he would kill him. The irate dared, but just then the sheriff came up and the belligerent farmer was ared, and at last accounts he was i iail for his rashness.

The Tribunesays it is well understood among the intimate associates of Tweed that his law expenses were very heavy and annoyed him coniderably. An old acquaintance called on him at the county jail about the middle of November and found him busy with certain accounts and business matters. He filled up two or three sheeks in payment of and then closing the check-book abruptly, he turned around to his visitor, and said very significantly I have drawn my last check for the lawyers." The writer thought lightly of the remark at the time, but heves now that Tweed was secretly getting ready for his escape from the jail and his enormous counsel fees.

Correspondence of the Omaha Herald. A WESTERS CATTLE KING.

Pasture Over One Hundred and Fifty Miles Long, Containing Nearly Thirty Thousand Head of

I proposed to give some account of the cattle king of the West and the "boss ranch" of the country. The cattle king is none other than J. W. Hiff, whose ranch is in Northern Colorado. This ranch is 156 miles long, and begins at Julesburg on the east and extends to Greeley on the west. It includes bottom and upland ranges, and has several camps or ranches. The chief ranch is nearly south of Sidney, and about forcy miles from Julesburg At this ranch there are houses and sheds, and some thing more than two sections of land enced in. All the cattle bought by Mr. Hiff are turned over to him and branded at this place. Here are his private stock-yards, with corrals, shutes and all the necessary conveniences for handling cattle. It is on the South Platte River and of course has the watering facilities, while from the bottom land adjacent plenty of hay may be cut for the use of the horses employed in herding. He cuts no hay for his cattle. They live the entire year on the rich native grass on his range, and with the exception of a severe winter now and then, the percentage of loss is not very great Mr. Iliff is a thorough cattle man, and from his long experience has a perfect knowledge of the business. He has bought and now owns some 20,000 acres of his present range, and will undoubtedly purchase more land as soon as it comes into the market. He now owns 26,000 head of cattle, and will have this number after his sales for the present year are completed. The number of calves branded this year on his ranch will be from 4.500 to 5.000 head, and his sales of three or four-years old steers and fat cows the present fall probably amount to about the same num He told me he expected to realize the sum of thirty-three dollars per head net on his sales this year At this rate 4,500 head would bring him the snug little little sum of $148,500. To take care of this immense herd he employs from twelve to thirty-five men-very few, usually in the winter, and the largest number during the "round-ups" in the spring. At the present time he has twenty-four men employed, and is cutting out of his herd the four-yearold steers and fat cows which he intends to ship. When engaged in this work the same men are gathering the cows with unbranded calves, which they put into the corrals near by, and, after the calves are branded, they ar turned loose with the herd again. His herd is rapidly being graded up by the introduction of theroughbred Durham bulls. In addition to the cattle raised on this ranch, he deals largely in Texas and Indian cattle, and has now adver-tised for twenty thousand head of Texas cattle to be delivered at his ranch in July of next year. Mr. Hiff estimates the increase of cattle from his home herd-outside of pur chases and sales-to be about seventy per cent. per year, and to be about equally divided as to gender. His shipping points are at Pine Bluff and Sulesburg, on the Pacific, and at Deer's Tail, on the Kansas Pacific. Lest any one should come to the conclusion that this business is all do not amount to much, let me state that Mr. Iliff's policy is to keep his expenses as low the keeping and safety of his cattle think, the expense of herding, &c., amounted to less than $15,000, and will amount to a still less sum this year. But the losses from thefts and deaths some years are frightful. The winter of 1871-'72 was very severe. There were deep snows over this range that remained on the ground a long time, and the storms were inces-In the midst of these storms Mr. Hiff visited his ranch, and found his cattle literally dying by thousands. On the islands in the South Platte River he found and drove off into the sand hills on the south side, after great exertion, some 2 700 head and of this number less than hal have since been recovered. Their bleaching bones now whiten the plains in the vicinity where they Were frozen to death, and those that were recovered were found in two different States and four different Territories of the Union. More than $24,000 were expended in trying to find them. Nor was this all. It was impossible to tell for a number of years how much the loss had been His book showed nearly 5,000 head unaccounted for. No trace of them beyond skeletons could be found, and at last-in the spring of 1874, I think it was—this number was charged to profit and loss account, and the books balanced for a new start. This large number would probably have averaged $20 per head could they have been sold the fall previous, and at this rate they would have amounted to $100,000. I estimate his capital invested in the cattle business at $500,000, and yet, from its very na-ture, he is hable to lose half of it dur-

It was a simple reception, carried on for a week. Not a drop of liquor, no dark "inside" rooms; nothing appeared there but a politician and his family making game. - Washington Letter.

Washington-the Doings of the Dem-

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The message which the President will shortly send to Congress on the Southern affairs will relate the greater part to the late troubles in Mississippi, and the mode of conducting election that State, the information having been gathered by persons designated for that purpose.

Col. Lamar presided at the Demo cratic caucus to day. Browning, of Ohio, and Robbins, of North Caroli-na, as Secretaries. Mr. Waddell, of North Carolina, offered a resolution for the appointment by the Chair man of a Democratic Executive Com mittee to consist of three Senators, six Representatives and three citi zens of the District of Columbia Cox, of New York, offered a resoluion providing for the appointment by the Chairman of a Committee of 11 members to suggest to the cauci at a future meeting such line of policy or action in public ineasures i would best serve the interests of the country. These resolutions, after debate, were severally agreed to.
There was harmony of views with regard to the duty of the majority of House. All agreed that they should as far as possible effect a reduction of taxation, that the Government should be honestly and eco nomically administered. Much responsibility devoived upon the maority of the House, although he Senate was not po'itically in accord with them. The country the stoppage of corruption and waste ful expenditures, and the democracy could not expect the people to stand by them unless they stood by the people.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.
House.—On call of States the fo'lowing, among a vast number of bills By Blaine, of the propose!

amendment to the constitution providing that no State shall make law respecting the establishment of religion or probibiting the free exercise thereof, and that no money raised by taxation in any State for the support of public schools or derived from any public fund therefor, or any public lands devoted thereto shall ever be under the control of religious sects, and that no money or lands so devoted shall be divided among religious sects or denomina tions; making the Presidential term six years, and afterwards ineligible. By Darrall, of Louisians, to amend the act of 3rd March, 1871, incorporating the Texas and Pacific Railroad Company, a bill similar to West's introduced in the Senate. By Morey, of Louisiana, to remove he political disabilities from all the citizens of the United States, and to prescribe an oath of office. By Davis, of North Carolina, to repeal the law forbidding the payment of accounts, claims and demands of Southern citizens for quarter masters stores, &c., and appropriating five hundred thousand dollars to pay for

Fort, of Illinois, offered the following resolution, and demanded the previous question :

Resolved, By the House of Representatives that in all subordinate appointments under any of the officers of this House, it is the judgment of the House that wounded Union soldiers who are not disabled from the performance of duty should be preferred. A standing vote on seconding the previous question showed 97 Republicans voting in its favor and 104 Democrats taken by tellers with the like general result.

The report of the tellers being ayes 99 noes 126, so the previous question was not seconded. Cox, of N. Y., then offered the following as an amendment to the reso. iution and moved the reference of both resolutions to the committee on accounts and demanded the previous question: Resolved, that inasmuch as the Union of the States has been restored all the citizens thereof are entitled to consideration in the appointment offices under this (overnment. Hale of Maine, inquired whether Cox's resolution was offered as a ubstitute to Fort's. The speaker replied that he under-

Stark weather, of Connecticut, made the objection that as the State of New York had been already called, the gentleman (Cox) could not put in a resolution now.

The Speaker ruled that it was too late to make the objection.

Fort said that he had tried to make the objection as soon as the resolution was offered. Hale, of Maine, inquired whether the House had acted on the amendment?

would be acting on the subject matter of the resolution now, which is not the purpose of the gentleman from New York. His purpose is to refer both resolutions to a commit-Cox said, "the original resolution was an ad captandum affair. My resolution is in the shape of an amnesty." (Laughter.) Reagan, of Texas, made a point of order that neither the original resolution nor the amendment was in order; neither of them proposed anything which the House was authorised or required by law to do. The Speaker over ruled the point of order, stating that if it was even tenable, it came too late. The vote was taken by yeas and nays and re-solved in yeas 168 nays 102—a strict party vote; so both resolutions were referred to the committee on accounts.

The Speaker appointed as regents of he Smithsoniau Institute, Clymer of Pennsylvania, and McCrary of Senate.-Patterson presented a memorial from the Chamber of Com-merse and the Mayor of Charleston for an appropriation for the improvement of the harbor of that place. A resolution calling for a report of unsettled accounts, and defalcations was referred to the committee on finance. The resolution to allow McMillan to withdraw his credentials was aken up; a motion to refer to committee on elections and pri ilees was lost, and permission to withraw was passed by a strict party vote except Dawes. Incidentally I oulsiana affairs were ventilated. Except as they bore upon Pinchback, to whose case no llusion was made during the discussion. Howe said he did not beieve there was a man in the country, or Senator on the floor, who did not believe the McEnery Governernmeat a sham. Bayard said he believed in his soul that McEnery was the legal Govern-or of Louisiana, and had been kept from his place by usurpation and federal power. There was slight applause in the galleries, but it was promptly checked. In Executive session.

Virginia Senatorial Election-No Resuit Yet.

RICHMOND, VA., Dec. 14.-The Conservative caucus to nominate a U. S. Senator met at 10 a. m., and proceded to ballot. Seven ballots, thirtythree in all, were taken with no re Flournoy has been finally dropped. Tucker, Smith and Stuart were dropped twice each, and Johnston, Goode and Letcher once each. On the last ballot, Goode having been dropped on the previous one, resulted as follows: John W. Daniel 60, ex-Gov. Smith 52, the Goode men merely oting for Smith or not at all. The aucus adjourned till after the session of the General Assembly, at which time a formal ballot will be taken for Senator as required by law. Previous to adjourning, the caucus adopted a resolution that in voting for Senator in joint assembly, the Conservascatt-r their votes as to prevent an election till the nomination s made by caucus.

RICHMOND, Dec. 14.-At noon a vote was taken in both Houses for Senator with no result, the members scattering their votes so that the highest number for any person didn't exceed 15. Immediately after adjournment, the legislative caucus again met and resulted, ballotting on he thirty-fourth ballot, Daniel 69, Letcher 59. The latter was finally dropped and Goode was renominated. On the thirty-fifth Daniel was 61, Goode 63. Daniel was dropped nd Johnston renominated on the cirty sixth. Goode had 63 John-Goode was dropped and Judge Christian was renominated. A recess till 4.

LATER STILL.

RICHMOND, Dec. 14.—The caucus reassembled. Christian was with-drawn, Cochrane was renominated. On 37 h ballot Johnston was dropped the 2nd time. On 35th no other nomnation wa- made, Cochrane received 65 votes. On 38th Judge W. R. Stapl s was renominated, Cochrane 19, aples 40. Staples was finally dropped. A spirited but unsuccessful el-ort was here made to reconsider the rule under which the caucus has been acting since yesterday. After some discus sion looking to the adoption of the ew rule placing all candidates not finally dropped in nomination and dropping the lowest one in each suc-ceeding ballot until a choice is made, the caucus adjourned until 10 a. m. to-morrow, the new rule being with-

Eleven eligible candidates still remain, to-wit: Goode, Daniel, John-son, Tucker, Smith, Stuart, Roberts, Cochrane, Caristian, Coghill and Sheffey. The seven first named are Sheffey. The seven first named and only entitled to one re nomination. The friends of Goode, Daniel and Johnson, who are conceded to be the strongest candidates, are backward in putting their man up for fear of combinations, which, defeating either one, will throw him out entirely; hence the adoption of the new rule similar to the one above mentioned is
